Our Alma Mater

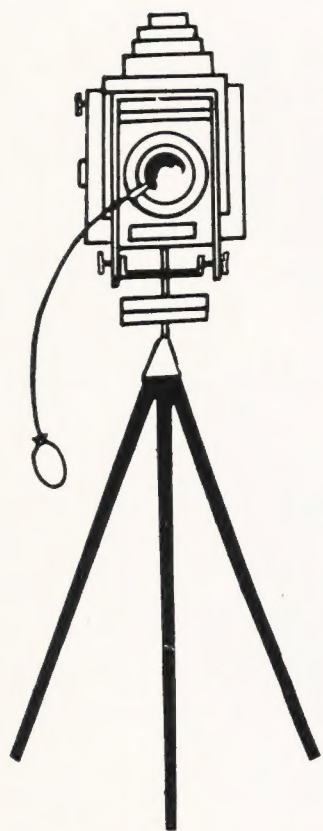

How we love this dear school beneath the oak and pine,
Here to gain knowledge for our future years.
We have studied many a day hoping to gain the victory.
But old dear Savannah we all love you so.
Savannah High, we love you; in our hearts we're grateful,

For our School so dear beneath the oak and pine.

Chorus:

Time will come but we will never forget
All that we were taught here.

Preface

The 1969 edition of the Eagle herewith presents, in pictures and portraits a story of life at Savannah High School during the past academic year. For many of us, this year marked the end of preparations for careers, for countless others, just a little more than a beginning.

As most of us glance back in retrospect to our beginning here some twelve years ago, we saw among us a change in perspective—a more objective look at things in our school life as well as situations in our home environment. We gradually paid less and less time to the unimportant and more and more thought and concern about the essential things in life.

We took joy and sorrow in our strides, knowing that as our dedicated teachers admonished, success or failure in the final analysis, depended on what we put into life.

The members of the staff hope that these pages will give in years to come, the opportunity to reminisce, to remember and relive those happy and rewarding days here at Savannah.

Frederick E. Taylor, Coach — A gentleman, advisor and friend whose first consideration was that of the student. Our problems were always his.

As Athletic Director, Coach Taylor ponders program for 1968-1969.

This 1969 edition of the Eagle is dedicated to Frederick E. Taylor, coach of basketball since 1959.

A graduate of A. & T. State University, Coach has rendered outstanding service to Savannah through his careful understanding of, and appreciation for the problems which confront the modern day high school student and athlete.

Coach Taylor checks with participants concerning May Day.

Mr. Rufus L. Flanagan has been at Savannah for the past sixteen years, all of them as principal. He has an A.B. degree from Johnson C. Smith Univ. and a M.A. degree from North Carolina College at Durham, N.C.

The Annual staff sends a special tribute to our beloved principal, Mr. R. L. Flanagan.

His understanding and leadership make him worthy of the praise we now give.

We are grateful for his services in the past and look forward to working with him in the future.

NOAH W. LOFTIN, Chairman

The role of the English Department at Savannah High School has become strikingly important in its attempt to adhere to the theme of the 1969 edition of the Eagle, representing excerpts taken from our school philosophy. In addition to being an interpreter of our cultural heritage, the language arts is a frontline discipline in the field of communication. Society is turning to the unique skills of its subject matter as keys to survival. For only the English teacher can concentrate on the management of language for effective communication.

The English Department of Savannah is endeavoring to place major stress on the following language skills: The skills of getting information, the skills of organizing information, and the skills of presenting information. These are the skills essential to the fruition of the Savannah High School philosophy.

The objectives of the Foreign Language Program of Savannah High School are designed basically:

- I. To motivate students in a desire to learn of the French language, people and customs. This is to aid in the developing of creativity.
- II. To help students acquire the ability to understand a native speaker talking at a normal speed.
- III. To help students to speak correctly and with good pronunciation and clear enunciation on a subject.

The study of Foreign language is viewed as an integration of linguistic skills, cultural knowledge, and attitudes of understanding and appreciation of other people in our rapidly changing world.

The Savannah Home Economics Department is federally aided and has been since its inception in 1952-53, thus, making the department a vocational one. An all purpose room houses the activities offered in the seven areas of homemaking, namely: Child Care, Clothing, Family Relations, Family Economics, Foods, Guidance, Health and Housing.

Our youth organization, the Future Homemakers of America, is affiliated with the state and National group.

In addition to the varied classroom activities, the girls serve as hostesses for school activities, present programs and exhibits in observance of certain holidays, and sponsor open house for the eighth graders each year. The Betty Crocker Homemaker test is administered annually under the auspices of the department.

Mrs. S. G. Miller,
Librarian

The librarian, Mrs. S. G. Miller with her assistant Miss Belinda Moore, strives to develop the library to act as a place where the student can pursue knowledge beyond the classroom, beyond his textbooks, and even beyond his teacher.

It is hoped that the Savannah High School student body's curiosity can lead them down countless roads that wind through the world of man's knowledge and will help the pupils develop a better thirst for reading and a greater quest for knowledge.

Prophecy For The Class Of 1969

What will the future bring for the class of 69? One night the spirit of 79 came to me to pierce the veil of darkness that covered the future. She told me of the great work the class will do. Here is what she said. The spirit reported that Daisy Newborn, Deloris Cogdell and Evelyn Coward are famous women surgeons. James Speight and Andrew Coward took a "TRIP" and don't know how to come off it. We see Deacon Johnny Mack Brown, Deacon Willis Earl Brown and Reverend Herbert Kilpatrick conducting their regular Sunday Morning services at Saint Paul's Cathedral in New York City. The choir is under the direction of Sister Minnie Moore and Sister Linda Koonce is at the piano. My, what a glorious Sunday that was. Blaine Hargett has just won the honor of becoming the first Negro Astronaut along with Roland Best. Ralph McCoy, Herlis Moore, Onterio Washington, and William Moore are prominent members of the President's Cabinet. Linda Mitchell is Secretary of the Women's Division of the army. Peggy Cobb, Elva Newborn, and Brenda King have finally grown to the height of 5' 7". They are professionals now working in one of the greatest modeling companies in Los Angeles, California. Believe it or not Mrs. Smokey Robinson (formerly Miss Anna Daughety) struck it rich and donated $40,000 for the betterment of UCLA, so that her crumb crushers, Melvin Davis and Andrew Hargett, will be able to attend this great school. Look! It's Peggy Fuller's melodious voice and Mattie Wiggins playing the piano fabulously, doing a concert at Carnegie Hall. On television, we see Ronnie Collins, Crist Canady, Frazier Pope, and Darold Cox singing their latest hit record. Jackie Dove and Jackie Daughety are background singers for Aretha Franklin. They are married to Sam and Dave. Roland Hill and Franklin Kilpatrick are earning $600 a month as typists in the Pentagon. Lester Stanley, Nannie Gray, Geraldine Brown, and Dora Plymouth hold positions in Mr. Dynamite Brown's band. Marvin Banks, Henry Taylor, Clyde Moore, and Wilbert Rouse are famous basketball stars now playing with the Boston Celtics. Leroy Cantey, Franklin Nobles, and Frederick Cratch have made it into the big time playing with the Globe Trotters. Johnnie Edwards and Alvin Sutton can be seen cruising around town at all hours wearing their "Big Hats". You guessed it—they are policemen. Did you hear the latest? Gail Ellison and Martha Pierce just got married last year. And of all things they had a double wedding. The lucky guys are Sidney Poiter and Sammy Davis, Jr. For all of you who visit Raleigh frequently, be sure to stop in to see William Barnes, Palmer Davis, and William King. Their business office for their chain of stores is located there. The whereabouts of Amanda Williams, Theresa Mumford, Millie Pridgen, Joyce Davis, and Shirley Moye are not known. The last we heard, they were on a cruise around the world with millionaire husbands.

The seniors of "79" are ordering their rings today. Brenda Hill is the chief representative now. She sends the order off to Philly where the company is headed by Freddie Dison. From Paris we hear about the famous designers of Women's Clothing, Harold Cox and Sandra McNeal. They have designed styles that are really out of sight. Cornell Sutton, James Leary, and Leslie Thorbs have earned their way to fame as stage managers for M.G.M. We regret to report that Ben Smith, Theodore Strong, and Robert Smith can no longer be located in the U.S. They were deported by Donald Fisher for writing letters to his wife, Virginia Chapman. The Kinsey twins, Joy and Joyce, are go-go girls at the Whiskey A-Go-Go. James Dunk and Jesse Morris have designed a brand new car the (Sutmo). Lynwood Garriss and Cora McCotter are another Arthur Murray dance team. Linda Burney and Samuel Gaynor are famous artists in Italy. Rosalind Brewer, Shirley Canady, Boston Cantey, Charles Cogdell, James Fields, Lula Fisher, Jack Graham, and Diane Hall are all living happily on the moon. Cora King, Johnnie King, Henry Kirkman, Mable Ward, Nannie Watts, Margaret Wiggins, Barbara Williams, and Linda Wynn are all scheduled to ride the next rocket ship to the moon with their families to settle down.

At midnight the spirit of "79" vanished as quickly as she had appeared.

From The Pens Of Our Editors

After twelve years of serious work and fun, the time has come for all of us to say our sad farewells, to step out into this rapidly changing world, and to take all the challenges that will help us to reach our goal.

As we close this edition of the Eagle, we hope that in some way we are already charting the way for our future, and you are closing the beginning of the lives of 96 young men and women.

The members of the senior class hope that you have enjoyed the 1969 edition of the Eagle. As you turned each page, you saw how life at Savannah was for us. We also hope that you enjoyed the life you viewed and that you were a part of it.

We send our special thanks to our principal, teachers, underclassmen, and especially the members of the Senior class for their full co-operation in helping to organize the book.

Our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation also go to:

—The members of the Delmar Company staff and photographers for their generous assistance in our problems, without whose co-operation in taking individual and group pictures, our annual could not have taken place.

—Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Knight school secretaries, who kindly gave valuable time in making typing and P.A. announcements and helping the staff to use office equipment.

—Our advertisers for their support and co-operation, and many others who displayed an interest in the EAGLE publication.
